Jordan Outlines Work Progress of Street Department

INTERVIEW: "How's things getting along in your department?" asked Timmo yesterday of Sneed Jordan, superintendent of streets and alleys.

"Tim, we've done a lot of work since we took over the first of May," he responded.

"I notice there are some streets that are pitted and could stand some grading," I pointed out, "but I suppose you have definite reasons for laying off street grading right now."

"You're absolutely right," said Mr. Jordan. "There are a few streets that need grading but we must wait until after we have some rains. To grade them right now would be disastrous, there would be so much dust."

"We started to grade some streets a while back when it was dry and we had to stop in a hurry, so many were the complaints. And I didn't blame the people at all—so fierce was the dust. You can tell the people that just as soon as we have some rains we'll be around and grade the streets that need it."

Something else Mr. Jordan said would be resumed on a full scale after rains would be the job of cleaning streets—where the staff, using brooms and shovels, trucks the stuff off that has accumulated in the guttering.

And right now, Mr. Jordan stated, his boys are spending a lot of time cleaning out catch basins, getting ready for the fall rains we are all hoping will come right away.

Mr. Jordan outlines the projects he wants done to his street superintendent, George Rees, and Mr. Rees and his staff composed of Arthur Hinant Jr., William "Cookie" Owens, John Cain, Luther Alexander and George Sheldon gets busy.

Since Mr. Jordan took over in May the department has: 1. Replaced 45 or 50 culverts across drainage ditches;

2. Prepared streets for oiling and brought to town 6,000 gallons of oil to spread on about 16 blocks of unimproved streets;

3. Engaged in weed cutting on city property between sidewalks and streets. Two mowers were used for a while when the city borrowed the county mower to augment the one owned by the city;

4. Removed six or eight dead trees on city property which were hazards, cutting down the trees, cutting them up in sections and hauling away the pieces;

5. Opened a number of drainage ditches with the grader;

6. Installed and exchanged a number of traffic signs, as directed by the department of public safety;

7. Patched a lot of sharp holes eaten out in blacktop streets, using a bituminous material cold patch.

And one of the first things done was repainting all the traffic lines up town, with union painters doing the job.

CLOSING THOUGHTS FROM SUNSHINE: If you wish to know how she will talk to you after marriage, listen while she talks to her younger brother. You should let your wife know who's boss right from the start. There's no use kidding yourself. . . . And this tip on driving: When meeting at night allow plenty of room, and be sure you lower the beam—not the boom.

See Yuh Soon.

Lonardi Pledges Free Religion, Speech, Press

Remove Peron Officials; Ex-Leader Still Aboard Ship

BUENOS AIRES (UP)—Victorious rebels began removing the last vestiges of the Peron regime from Argentina today. But the main prize—the person of former President Juan D. Peron himself—continued to elude them.

Gen. Eduardo Lonardi, devout Catholic and Peron-hater since at least 1950, takes over in a ceremony Friday as head of a provisional regime pledged to uphold the constitution, to restore freedom of speech, religion and press and to return property unjustly seized during nine years of Peron dictatorship.

Plans for Lonardi, 50, to take over today were abandoned. An official announcement said the 24-hour postponement was caused by demonstrations being held in his honor in Cordoba.

Additional high-up officials of the former dictatorship were falling into rebel hands but the main prize—Peron—remained aboard the tiny gunboat Paraguay in Buenos Aires harbor.

It was expected that one of Lonardi's first tasks would be to determine Peron's legal status as a refugee.

He will have to determine whether to press rebel claims for Peron's return to face criminal charges or to accept the traditional Latin American "right of asylum" by which political refugees may take refuge in foreign embassies and later leave the country under safe conduct.

Reliable sources understood that Paraguayan Ambassador Juan Chaves presented to the foreign office and the ruling military junta a document formally stating that Peron had been granted asylum under the Paraguayan flag and asking a guarantee allowing the gunboat to leave Buenos Aires port with Peron aboard.

The junta was said to have studied the request but to have decided to leave the final decision to the new authorities.

ON TRIAL IN SLAYING OF NEGRO—In Sumner, Miss., half-brothers Roy Bryant, left, and J. W. Milam, center, sit with an unidentified attorney at their trial on a charge of slaying a 14-year-old Chicago Negro boy alleged to have whistled at Bryant's wife. (NEA Telephoto)

Mother of Slain Boy Testifies Battered Body Was Her Son

SUMNER, Miss. — The grief-stricken mother of slain Emmett Till testified at the trial of the two white men accused of killing him today that the body delivered to her in Chicago, bullet pierced and battered, for burial was her son.

Mrs. Mamie Bradley took the witness stand for the state of Mississippi at the murder trial of the two white men accused of killing the 14-year-old Chicago boy.

Composed and speaking firmly at the start of her testimony, Mrs. Bradley bowed her head and wept when special prosecutor Robert B. Smith showed her a photograph of the body that was removed from the Tallahatchie River Aug. 31 and asked her if that was her boy.

Mrs. Bradley who sobbed that "the state of Mississippi will pay for this" when she was notified of her son's Aug. 28 slaying, was composed as she took her place in the witness chair as one of the key witnesses for the state.

Certain of No Mistake

Her identification of the photograph of young Emmett was considered important for the prosecution because Sheriff H. C. Strider of Tallahatchie County had raised the possibility earlier that the body taken from the stream was not that of Till.

"Is that the picture of your son?" Smith asked the mother.

"Yes sir," she said in a voice drained of expression.

She said she examined the body shipped to Chicago "very minutely" and was certain there could have been no mistake.

"I looked at it all over and very thoroughly," she said. "I knew beyond a shadow of a doubt it was my son."

She also identified a ring taken from the body as one that belonged to her late husband, the boy's father, who was killed in World War II.

The co-defendants are accused of kidnapping the boy, a visitor from Chicago, in Leflore County near the Sunflower County line, believing he had insulted Bryant's young wife with a wolf whistle.

Till's 64-year-old great uncle, Moses Wright, whom the prosecution referred to as "Old Man Moses," insisted in his testimony Wednesday that he was positive the body was Till's.

But Deputy Sheriff James Cochran, final witness for the day, said Wright told him later that he might "have been mistaken" in identifying the body as Till's.

Cochran also testified that Milam admitted that he and Bryant abducted the boy from the Wright home near Money, Miss., but turned him loose after he discovered "we had the wrong Negro."

Couple Die in Knife Duel Over Mounting Debts

CHICAGO (UP)—A coroner's jury has closed the books on the story of an incontinent couple who bought death on the installment plan.

The jury ruled Wednesday that Branimir Spasic, 48, killed his wife Olga, 47, as they duelled with butcher knives in their apartment Saturday. Spasic then stabbed himself to death, the jury said.

The fight was apparently over money, the couple's niece testified. They had begun to fight constantly over money when their "easy payment" design of living bankrupted.

Spasic came from Czechoslovakia in 1950 and his wife followed him from Germany two years later.

They had known what it was to pinch pennies in their homeland. When he got a job for $109 a week and she began to bring in $35 a week they felt almost rich.

They rented a $95-a-month apartment and began to buy on the installment plan — a new car, television set, furniture, life insurance. Then came the visit to loan companies.

Investigators pieced together the story of the Spasic's tragedy from the payment books and coupons they kept in an enamel strongbox.

Out of a total monthly income of $616, the couple was committed to $339.27 in payments. The box also included three notices of "overdue payments."

Bulganin Sends Long Letter To Eisenhower

Believe Aimed at Breaking Deadlock On Disarmament

PARIS (UP)—Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin has sent President Eisenhower a long letter aimed at breaking the deadlock over world disarmament, authoritative sources said today.

Soviet Charge d'Affaires Alexander Anikine delivered a copy of the letter this morning to French Premier Edgar Faure along with a note calling attention to it. British Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden got a copy Wednesday night.

French sources said the Bulganin letter to Mr. Eisenhower covered 11 pages. It was one of the first major diplomatic moves to prepare the way for the Big Four foreign ministers conference in Geneva next month.

Faure was reported to have looked with favor on the Soviet move. But the French Foreign Office did not release the text of either the letter to Mr. Eisenhower or the covering note.

It raised immediate speculation that Russia is making new proposals to break the deadlock which has continued in the United Nations disarmament subcommittee in New York.

The Bulganin letter expressed concern at the slow progress of the disarmament talks, informed sources said.

Fear for Life of Kidnaped Baby

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—The doctor who brought little Robert Marcus into the world feared for the life of the kidnaped 5-day-old infant today.

Dr. Louis Goldstein, chief of obstetrics at Mount Zion Hospital, said the baby was slightly under weight at birth last Saturday and had been losing precious ounces since.

The child was stolen Monday afternoon from his cradle in the hospital nursery.

Proposed Changes in Draft Will Grant Deferments to Young Fathers, All Over 26

Woman Drowns In Saucenpan of Water

ROMFORD, England (UP)—Mrs. Charlotte Grover drowned in a saucenpan of water, coroner's court ruled Wednesday.

Coroner Leslie Beccle said Mrs. Grover, 47, collapsed at the kitchen sink and fell face forward into the saucenpan. Her husband found her three hours later.

WASHINGTON (UP)—Selective Service proposes to grant deferments to most draft-eligible young fathers and to all men over 26.

The proposed change in draft regulations is designed to get younger men into armed service. The Army has been concerned that they have been getting older men—those in the 23-25 age bracket.

The change in draft regulations is being circulated among government agencies for submission to President Eisenhower, a Selective Service spokesman said today.

Selective Service now is faced with a big manpower pool in the draft-eligible 18-21 through 25 age. In two years, this pool has jumped from around 940,000 to 1,765,000.

Because of this, the average age at which men are being inducted has jumped from 20 in 1952-53 to 23. At the height of the Korean war it had dipped to about 19. That's the age at which the Army wants men—before they are settled into civilian life.

Men over 26 who have been deferred once are eligible for the draft until the age of 35 if the reason for their deferments no longer exist.

Such men would continue to be liable to call if world conditions made induction necessary, but for all practical purposes now they would get a virtual blanket deferment.

In the case of fathers, local boards would be instructed to be more liberal in granting fatherhood deferments. The proposed change probably would result in deferments for most fathers.

Men with dependent fathers and mothers also would get more consideration for deferments. And hardship discharges from the armed forces would be liberalized.

The Army now is drafting 10,000 men a month. The Navy will begin drafting 10,000 men a month in November. But the Navy draft is not expected to change the situation.

Harold, his mother and his six-year-old brother, Helmut, were flying here from Seven Islands to meet their father, a painter who arrived with his family from Germany a few months ago.

Harold was playing with the emergency hatch when it flew open suddenly and he was sucked out by the tremendous pressure.

A fellow passenger grabbed Helmut and saved him from following Harold in the 6,000-foot plunge. The passenger shut the hatch.

The grief-stricken mother sobbed: "I don't know how it happened. Helmut shouted to me. But it was too late."

Offers Russia Security for German Unity

Secretary Seeks 'Healing Decade' In Address to UN

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (UP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles today offered Russia an "overall plan of European security" in exchange for the reunification of Germany.

In a major policy speech to the United Nations General Assembly, Dulles said international cooperation could make the next 10 years "the healing decade of true peace" if the "new spirit" achieved at Geneva is carried out.

Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov, who will address the Assembly Friday, joined in the rolling round of applause from 1,000 delegates as Dulles concluded a 40-minute speech.

"The German people," Dulles said, "have now been forcibly divided for over 10 years. The perpetuation of this division is a crime against nature."

Ready For Overall Plan

Dulles pointed out that some countries feel their own security requires a unified Germany as part of Western European defense arrangements. Others, he said, profess to feel that a united Germany within NATO would endanger them.

"To bridge this difference," he said, "the Western powers are ready to advance some overall plan of European security which would give the Soviet Union substantial additional reassurances."

In a wide-ranging address, Dulles also called upon Russia to free its satellites, and demanded that Red China reject the use of force. For the most part, Dulles' address was a mildly worded review of international developments and contained virtually no invective against the Soviet Union.

Indict Former Banker for Embezzlement

LOS ANGELES (UP)—A race horse-loving former bank executive faces arraignment today on a federal grand jury indictment charging him with 25 counts of embezzlement, misapplication of funds and false entries at a desert bank closed when $578,000 in shortages were discovered.

The jury indicted Roscoe D. Coon, 46, Wednesday after being presented evidence in the case by the U. S. Attorney's office. Coon formerly was vice-president and cashier of the Joshua Monument National Bank in Twenty-Nine Palms, Calif. The bank was closed July 25 after the shortages were uncovered by federal bank examiners.

Coon, freed on $25,000 bond, was charged specifically with 16 counts of embezzlement totaling $222,620, three counts of willful misapplication of funds totaling $25,000 and with six false entries in bank records to conceal embezzlement.

"This is the most fantastic embezzlement case which has ever come before local authorities," said U. S. Atty. Laughlin E. Waters.

Investigators said that although his salary was $6,000 a year, he owned the racing stable valued at approximately $150,000 and three homes.

the politicians.

The Democrats have announced that they will make a number one issue out of the plight of the farmer in 1956. They'll blame it all on the Republicans.

The Republicans, at their recent political school in Washington, seemed bothered by the prospect.
The GOP attitude since 1952 has been that all their farm problems were inherited from the Democrats. But if farm prices are still down next year, this argument may be of doubtful value.

Non-partisan farm experts in the Department of Agriculture say the worst thing that can happen to the farm situation right now is to make a political issue of it. This is the advice of the necessarily anonymous civil servants who keep the government farm machinery running regardless of which political party is in power.

WHAT AGRICULTURE NEEDS
most is consideration as a bi-partisan issue, as foreign policy is handled.

Basic to the whole problem is the simple fact that agricultural science has become too good and American farmers have become too efficient. The result is more production than is needed—more supply than demand—and falling prices.

On top of this, so many legal gimmicks, subsidies, benefits and artificial price supports have been put into farm law as incentives for still more production that agriculture is hardly distinguishable as a straight economic problem.

The United States government now owns 5 billion dollars worth of surplus crops for which there are no cash customers.

It is costing the government 350 million dollars a year just to store the now nearly two billion bushels of surplus grains.

Just before adjournment in August, Congress increased the government's lending authority from 10 to 12 billion dollars to finance loans against this year's crop surpluses put under price supports.
Still more billions may be needed
next year.

ALL THE HULLABALOO over whether the government should have 100 per cent of parity or 90 per cent of parity or fixed or flexible price supports is regarded as largely insincere political shouting.
Nothing was done to change the law last year and probably little

Seven-Day Food Supply
Recommended by CDA

BATTLE CREEK, Mich. — (AP)— Families should keep a seven-day reserve food supply in their homes as a defense against nuclear attack, according to the Federal Civil Defense Administration.
The FCDA originally recommended only a three-day supply.
It increased the suggested amount because of the hazards of hydrogen bomb fallout.

"Weapons have grown bigger and our planning must change accordingly," said Theodore Wilcox, acting director of the FCDA Welfare Office. "Fall-out might keep people in shelters for anywhere from a few days to a week. If families plan against the larger hazard, it stands to reason that there would be considerably less suffering."

High, Horizontal Windows Scored

DETROIT — (AP)—One of the nation's largest insurance companies has warned against the current architectural trend to high horizontal windows in bedrooms.
The company has stopped granting mortgage loans on houses which have only high strip windows in bedrooms because its safety experts claim they constitute a fire hazard. They say occupants can't get out of such rooms fast enough in case of fire. Each bedroom, the company says, must have at least one window at normal height.

The high strip windows have become popular because they permit furniture to be placed against nearly any wall. They also provide more privacy.

will be done to change it next year.
The sad fact is that the extravagant 1952 campaign promises of the Republicans on what they were going to do to make over American agriculture are now beginning to bounce. The Eisenhower administration has discovered that its farm problem after the Korean war is the same one the Democrats faced after World War II.

The GOP 83rd Congress did pass a flexible price support program aimed at helping to cut surpluses.
But as applied so far there is no sign it is producing better answers than the Democrats offered. Secretly, some of the GOP farm policy makers would like to try the Brannan plan on a few crops. But they are afraid of the political consequences.

THIS WOULD MEAN letting farm prices seek their natural level, then taking the overproduction off the market at reduced prices.
It might just possibly be cheaper than the present support price plan and consumers might benefit.

Don Paarlberg, Secretary of Agriculture Benson's brain trust on farm economy, recently told a Massachusetts farmers' field day that things weren't so bad after all. His reasoning was that even though farm prices are down, per capita farm income is up because farm population has dropped.

Undersecretary True D. Morse tried a similar diversionary tactic in telling an Illinois farm picnic that things were better because taxes were lower, the dollar was sounder and destructive inflation had been stopped.

Neither fact is a palliative for low farm prices.

America can be thankful that it can produce more food and fiber than its people need. But so far, it has not been demonstrated that American politicians have found the way to live with these surpluses and consume them, instead of being consumed by them.

Hefner-McNew Marriage Solemnized At McKinley Avenue Baptist Church

Mr. and Mrs. William C. McNew

Before an altar decorated with an archway entwined with greenery and small clusters of flowers and flanked with candelabra containing fourteen lighted tapers, wedding vows were exchanged between Miss Doris Joan Hefner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hefner, 720 South Land, and William C. McNew, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude McNew, also of this city.

The double ring wedding ceremony took place Thursday, Sept. 8, at eight thirty o'clock at the McKinley Avenue Baptist church. The Rev. J. D. McCarty officiated.

The bride, escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a ballerina length gown of white chantilly lace over satin designed princess style with a low scoop neckline and long sleeves which tapered to a point over the hand. Her fingertip veil of illusion was secured to a divided band and she carried an orchid on a white ribbon.

Miss Diane Barger, close friend of the bride, served as maid of honor, wearing a frock of eyelet organdy over taffeta fashioned with a rounded neckline. She wore powder blue accessories and carried a bouquet of pink pom poms.

Wayman Hefner, brother of the bride, 720 South Land, served as best man to the bridegroom.

Ushers were Don Price and John Burroughs. Preceding the service Miss Nancy Fulkerson, organist, played appropriate wedding music, and accompanied Doyle Hedger, soloist who sang "I Love You Truly," "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer" as a benediction.

Mrs. Hefner chose for her daughter's wedding a teal blue dress with navy accessories, and the bridegroom's mother was attired in a blue and black printed dress with black accessories. Both mothers wore shoulder corsages of pink carnations.

The bride graduated from the Harrisburg Township high school with the class of 1953 and is employed at the Brokerage, and the bridegroom graduated from HTHS in 1952 and is now a student at Southern Illinois university in Carbondale.

Following a wedding trip to Arkansas the newlyweds are now at home at 605 North Main.

Out of town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Lester Darnell of Anna and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cooley of Fort Bragg, N. C.

WASHINGTON (U-P) — U. S. officials said today Russia's surprise $25,000 contribution to the Red Cross flood relief fund is an obvious effort to press her post-Geneva policy of improving U. S.-Soviet relations.

They also said Russian diplomats here seem to be enjoying their new role. Like other people, officials said, the Soviets appear to feel better when they can act nice.

The latest Soviet move came Wednesday when Russian chargé d'affaires, Sergei Striganov, handed a $25,000 check to President Ellsworth Bunker of the American National Red Cross for flood relief work. It was the first time in recent years Russia had made such a donation.

Officials saw no hitches or strings tied to the donation. The check, dated last Saturday, was drawn on the Riggs National Bank of Washington and was signed by G. Zorin, "Zarubin," the Soviet ambassador, has since gone to New York to attend the United Nations General Assembly session.

Daylight Time Ends Sunday for Part of Nation

CHICAGO (U-P)—An estimated 28,880,000 Americans will collect a 5-month-old debt next Sunday — the hour of sleep they lost when many parts of the country adopted daylight saving time last April.

A national survey by Elgin Observatory indicated that most cities and towns in 11 states will return to standard time at 12:01 a. m., Sept. 25.

Another 41,375,000 persons in 12 other states must wait until the last Sunday in October to catch up on the hour's sleep they lost in April.

Daylight time ends Sept. 25 throughout most cities in California, the District of Columbia, Kentucky, (Frankfort), Maryland, Missouri (St. Louis), Montana (Butte and nearby towns), New Mexico (Los Alamos), North Dakota (Bismarck-Mandan), Ohio, Virginia (cities around D. C.), and West Virginia.

Daylight time will end Oct. 30 at most cities in Connecticut, Delaware, Illinois (about half the state), Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island and Vermont.

Butler Urges Demo Leaders to Attack Ike on Three Promises

WASHINGTON (U-P)—Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler urged 2,000 Democratic leaders today to attack the Eisenhower administration fiscal record during the 1956 presidential election.

He said President Eisenhower has "failed to keep" the three major fiscal promises he made in the 1952 campaign:

1. To balance the budget.
2. To abolish all deficit spending.
3. To cut the national debt.

Lane Resigns White Sox Post

CHICAGO (U-P)—Frank Lane, general manager of the Chicago White Sox, has resigned his position in a letter to Mrs. Grace Comiskey, president of the club, the Sox announced today.

Lane had earlier this week announced his intention to quit. He came back here Sunday from a White Sox road trip with the intention of holding a conference with Mrs. Comiskey, but the conference had not yet been scheduled.

He has a contract with the Sox that extends through 1960.

Turns Down Ban On Loyalty Oaths

CHICAGO (U-P)—Circuit Judge Julius H. Miner has turned down a plea that he issue a temporary injunction against Broyles Law loyalty oaths for Chicago school teachers.

Miner Wednesday refused a request brought by the American Civil Liberties Union on behalf of Mrs. Shirley Lens, a 34-year-old elementary school teacher here.

Mrs. Lens and two other Chicago school teachers have refused to sign oaths. Mrs. Lens maintains she is a city, not a state, employee, and therefore is not required to sign a loyalty oath as stipulated by the Broyles Law.

Soviets Now Can Tolerate Religion, Khrushchev Says

MOSCOW (U-P)—Communist party Secretary Nikita Khrushchev said today that the Soviet Union can now tolerate religion because the power of the state has grown so great.

"But you must not draw the conclusion from this fact that communism has changed its point of view toward religion," he said. "We remain atheist and we do everything we can to liberate a certain part of the people from the opium attraction of religion which still exists."

Khrushchev made his remarks during an interview between himself, Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and a visiting group of French statesmen and newsmen.

Recover Five More Ransom Bills

They brought the number unearthed in Chicago to 40.

Stratton Urges More Women For Legislature

CHICAGO (U-P)—Gov. William G. Stratton has urged suburban women to insist on a bigger voice in the Illinois Legislature.

The governor said Wednesday that women ought to see that they get "at least a third" of the new legislative seats in the Chicago suburbs.

"It is tremendously important that we have your views represented in Springfield," he told 700 Republican women.

The suburbs will get extra seats in the Legislature under the 1955 reapportionment. They now have one senator and three representatives. They'll get six senators and 21 representatives.

Addressing the Republican County Towns Women's Organization, Stratton stressed the importance of the "new voice" given the suburbs under the reapportionment.

While the area formerly was "completely under-represented," it will "in all probability hold the balance of power" in the Legislature in future years, the governor said.

He said that capturing the suburbs in coming elections will prove "a key to carrying out the Republican program in Springfield."

British Airliner Crashes; 15 Dead

TRIPOLI, Libya (U-P)—A four-engine British Overseas Airways Corp. passenger plane crashed into a tree early today in an attempted landing here on a flight from London.

BOAC said 13 passengers and two crewmen were killed aboard the plane which was flying 40 passengers from London to Lagos, Nigeria.

Officials at Idriss Airport said all but two of the 32 survivors suffered some injury. The plane was carrying 40 passengers and a crew of seven.

The plane, a Canadian-built version of the American DC-4, left London at 1:40 p. m. Wednesday for the flight to West Africa and was flying from Rome to the airfield outside Tripoli when the crash occurred.

Smokey Says:

Illinois Postmaster Wanted for Shortage Surrenders in Texas

CHICAGO (U-P)—Postal inspectors said today they were notified that Leo Clyde Franklin, 35, postmaster who disappeared from Prairie du Rocher, Ill., after auditors examined his books, had surrendered today to authorities in Brownsville, Tex.

Jerome Williamson, a postal inspector here, said that auditors reported finding a $4,831 shortage in the books at the Prairie du Rocher post office. He said auditors were examining records Sept. 16 and Franklin told them he was going out of the building for a while and would return. They said his wife later received word that he was in Mexico.

Two Senators Ask Return to 90 Per Cent Parity

WASHINGTON (U-P)—Sen. Milton R. Young (R-ND) today warned his Republican colleagues "We are going to have to restore 90 per cent of parity farm supports—it's a political and economic necessity."

Another demand for a return to fixed price supports was voiced by Sen. Earle C. Clements (D-Ky.), the Senate Democratic whip. Farmers "would like to have back" that rigid price guarantee which was dropped by the Eisenhower administration, Clements said in a broadcast at Louisville, Ky., Wednesday.

As criticisms of the administration's farm record increased, Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson called together his top-level National Agricultural Advisory Commission here today to consider new plans to bolster sagging farm prices and income.

It was safe to predict that the commission would not recommend a return to rigid supports on wheat, cotton, rice, corn and peanuts at 90 per cent of "fair earning power" parity level. The same group advised Benson to drop the rigid system in 1954 and approved the administration program of flexible supports.

ICC Authorizes Time Changes in Bus Schedule

SPRINGFIELD (U-P)—The Illinois Commerce Commission today announced authorized changes in a Greyhound Corp. Paris-to-Paducah, Ky., bus run that will reduce time of the run by an hour.

The changes will be on the Paris, Marshall, Lawrenceville, Mount Carmel, Carmi and Paducah run. This run connects at Paris with a Chicago-to-Paducah run.

The ICC order permits Greyhound to straighten out its route between Mount Carmel and Grayville and between Harrisburg and Paducah. It also permits diversion of Greyhound double sections formerly running through Effingham to the Paris route to give added service to towns along the Paris-to-Paducah run.

There will be no change in operations between Albion and Mount Carmel. Cumberland Coaches Inc. will run between Albion, Grayville, and Crossville on its route to and from Mattoon.

Quit Emphasizing Horsepower, AAA Tells Auto Makers

WASHINGTON (U-P)—The American Automobile Assn. told manufacturers today they ought to stop emphasizing higher horsepower and do more to protect automobile drivers.

The AAA said the increased horsepower and higher speeds in new cars have created potential highway hazards, dangerous to drivers.

The policy statement was adopted unanimously at the closing business session of the AAA's 53rd annual meeting.

It said "reasonable reserve power" is desirable for passing and in other driving emergencies, but anything above that "would seem to impose on the car user an unwarranted potential hazard."

About 100,000 children and young adults have enrolled in 4-H clubs in South Korea.

Minneapolis Wins Little Series Opener From Rochester

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — The Minneapolis Millers, who ran rampant through the American Association with their battery of long ball hitters, try to make it two straight over the Rochester Red Wings in the Little World Series tonight when they send Alex Konikowski to the hill.

The Red Wings, who finished fourth in the regular International League season play and then surprised everyone by winning eight of nine games in the ensuing playoffs, will counter with Ellis Cof Deal in an effort to tie the best-of-seven series at one victory apiece.

The Millers, who set an American Association record for homers, used the long ball Wednesday night in pounding out an 8-3 victory before a crowd of 8,685. A pair of former major leaguers — Carl Sawatski and Monte Irvin — each hit three-run homers to spark Minneapolis' victory.

Marciano Denies Any Plans of Retiring After Ninth Round KO Of Moore; No Bout Until Next June

NEW YORK (AP) — Rocky Marciano, jubilant over his knockout victory over Archie Moore Wednesday night, said today he had "no plans to retire now."

The unbeaten champion, who made his sixth defense of the heavyweight crown before 61,574 in Yankee Stadium, explained that his talk of retirement following the fight was merely "thoughts about it because of the pressure that was being put on me by members of my family."

Marciano told a large brigade of sports writers, cameramen and television representatives, "I expect to defend my title again whenever my manager, Al Weill, sets the date."

Weill, sitting at his side, said "there will be no defense until next June."

Weill mentioned six possible challengers. They were Bob Baker of Pittsburgh, Nino Valdes of Cuba, Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson of Far Rockaway, N. Y.; Floyd Patterson of Brooklyn, possibly Moore again, and Franco Ciacchi of Italy, a heavyweight champion of Europe.

Marciano had revealed his thoughts about retirement after knocking out Moore at 1:19 of the ninth round. Before winning, the champ had to get off the floor in the second round and then floored Moore four times.

Marciano, who had appeared off-form in the latter stages of training, was not impressive Wednesday night. He suffered the second knockdown of his career in the second round, but kept hammering away at his 38-year old opponent until the knockout.

Biggest Gate Since 1946
Their weather-postponed fight was a good one and it drew the biggest gate in nine years—$948,117.95—largest since the second Joe Louis-Billy Conn extravaganza attracted $1,925,564 in the same stadium on Sept. 19, 1946.

Theatre Network Television drew an estimated $1,125,000 from some 320,000 fans in 129 theatres in 92 cities. And the radio fee for home sets was $35,000. Total receipts—before the movies are distributed—approximate $2,100,000.

Moore's 175-pound crown was not at stake—only Rocky's, because each weighed well above the light heavy limit. Marciano, the ring's first perfect-record heavy champ, weighed 188 1/2 pounds. Moore, who hoped to be the first light heavy king to step to the heavy throne, registered 188.

Fighting grimly in the white patch of ring-light in the cavernous and roaring stadium, Moore dropped Rocky with a "sneaker" right to the chin for a count of four in the second round. And he bloodied Rocky's tender nose and nicked his left brow in that same session.

Kent Marciano Forward
But Rocky kept marching forward with his short-armed hooking attack against his back-pedaling, and bobbing-weaving opponent in round after round. Rocky missed his experienced and elusive opponent with almost as many punches as he landed until the hits and the punches began to catch up with Moore in the sixth session.

Then Rocky dropped him twice—with a right for a count of two, and with a series of punches for a count of nine. Dr. Vincent Nardello examined Moore in his corner, and permitted him to continue.

In the seventh, a right to the chin dropped the challenger to one knee for what would have been a four-count, but Referee Harry Kessler, wealthy steel industrialist of St. Louis and New York, ruled it a "slip" and not a knockdown. The bell saved Archie at the count of six as the eighth round ended.

In the ninth, Moore still was fighting desperately with his back against the ropes in his own corner, and had landed four good rights; but Rocky's barrage ended with a right-left to the chin that dropped him on his haunches for the full count.

It was Moore's 20th defeat and fifth knockout in 145 professional bouts, and it was Rocky's 49th straight victory as a professional and his 43rd kayo. And it was his sixth successful defense of the title he won from Jersey Joe Walcott in 1952.

Report Russia to Dissolve Cominform

The latest tip-off came from Yugoslavia which has informed Britain that it expects the disbanding of the eight-year-old Communist organization shortly.

Yankees Sold Out For World Series

NEW YORK (AP) — Don't waste that three-cent stamp if you haven't already ordered World Series tickets from the New York Yankees.

The Yankees announced Wednesday that all box and reserved seats for the anticipated four games at Yankee Stadium are sold out. Standing room tickets at $4.20 and approximately 14,000 bleacher tickets will go on sale on the day of each game.

"We are oversold, and are accepting no more offers," a Yankee official said. "We thank our fans and regret there are no tickets left for sale."

Yankees Need Only One Win For Pennant

Play Four Game Series with Red Sox; Indians Meet Detroit

By United Press
There's only one question left today in the once-blazing American League race: Will the New York Yankees have enough champagne to go around?

For the relentless "Yankees" "magic number" was down to "one" and it'll be cork-popping time sometime during the four-game weekend series with the Red Sox in Boston. The Yankees need only one victory in the series to wrap up Manager Casey Stengel's sixth pennant in seven years.

The Yankees, rolling to their eighth consecutive triumph and their 15th in 19 games in a magnificent September stretch drive, clinched at least a tie for the flag when they beat the Washington Senators, 7-3, Wednesday night while the Cleveland Indians bowed to the Chicago White Sox, 7-2.

Can't Get A Bet
The Indians' forlorn hope is that the Yankees will lose four straight and that they will sweep their three-game series with the Detroit Tigers and go on to beat New York in a single-game playoff next Monday. The only betting on this possibility is that you can't get a bet on it.

The Yankees rolled out their siege guns to win Wednesday night's game, Billy Martin blasting a homer and Bob Cerv and Bill Skowron belting triples.

It was the New York Giants who broke the Indians' bubble in the 1954 World Series and it was an ex-Giant pitcher who dealt them Wednesday night's mortal blow. Jack Harshman, who has only a 6-5 record against the rest of the league, beat the Indians for the fifth time this year with a five-hitter embellished by seven strikeouts.

Baltimore Wins Again
The Baltimore Orioles scored their seventh straight triumph when they shaded the Boston Red Sox, 8-7, in 13 innings and the Detroit Tigers defeated the Kansas City A's, 10-1, in the other American League games.

In the National League, the Giants clinched third place with 7-2 and 7-3 victories over the Pittsburgh Pirates but may have lost the services of Willie Mays in their last three games. Mays, who leads the majors with 50 homers crashed into the center field wall in the first inning of the second game and suffered a bruised left hip and stiff back.

Ted Kluszewski slammed his 47th homer and Gus Bell knocked in eight runs with a grand slam homer and two other hits in leading the Cincinnati Redlegs to a 14-5 rout of the Milwaukee Braves. And the Chicago Cubs rallied for four runs in the 13th inning to down the St. Louis Cardinals, 7-5, in the other NL game.

Looking At Sports

By BILL MELTON

Until today Harrisburg seemed to be the unanimous choice of sports writers to take top honors in the South Seven football race.

Today I read where Mt. Vernon is the choice of at least one writer. John Rackaway, in his column Sporting Daze in the Mt. Vernon Register-News, discusses South Seven football and believes all schools will give a good account of themselves, but says he thought before the season began and still thinks that the Rams of Mt. Vernon will take the championship.

Mt. Vernon opened last Friday with a 34-0 victory over Chester.

Lindell Lovellette, 214-pound fullback at Eldorado, has been named "The Horse" by several that have seen him plunge along a gridiron with a football tucked under his arms. He certainly looked as difficult to stop as a runaway horse last Friday as he ripped the Anna line to shreds.

But a couple of "ponies" deserve considerable credit also. Acie Gwaltney and Bob Potts, small, swift halfbacks, skirted the ends a sufficient number of times to keep the Anna line from playing a tight defense all the way. When the line tightened the "ponies" went wide and if the line loosened the "horse" went straight through.

Guess that is what is called a diversified ground game.

SIU's cross country prospects look good with five of last year's letter winners back. Returning for another season are Sam DeNeal of Harrisburg and Bob Orto of Galatia, plus Howard Branch of Mounds and Larry Havens and Don Hecke. Branch is team captain.

Principals and coaches of schools in the Greater Egyptian conference met at Rosiclare last week and J. R. Martin, Rosiclare principal, was re-elected president of the group. Tim O'Brien of Golconda is the secretary.

The Greater Egyptian conference has voted to play a regular baseball schedule next spring, with the conference divided into a north and south group. Each of the four schools in the two groups will play home-and-home series, then the group winners will meet for the league title.

In the north group are Galatia, Equality, Ridgway and Shawneetown. The south is composed of Vienna, Cave-in-Rock, Rosiclare and Pope County High (Golconda).

Eagles Play Foxes Friday At McLeansboro

Coach Al Adams will take his powerful Eldorado Eagles to McLeansboro Friday night to meet the young, inexperienced Foxes.

McLeansboro, playing its first year of varsity football since 1929, opened last Friday with a scoreless tie against Sesser.

Eldorado walloped a highly regarded Anna team 26-6. From the record Eldorado will be a decided favorite Friday.

The McLeansboro team is coached by LeRoy Sivilie, at Carverville last year, assisted by Floyd Staff, basketball coach at McLeansboro the past three years.

In last Friday's scoreless game, both McLeansboro and Sesser had touchdowns nullified by penalties. McLeansboro had 12 first downs and Sesser only five.

The Foxes have a brand new field—it was dedicated Friday—located on the Mt. Vernon road at the west city limits.

Bob Evans of McLeansboro describes the field as having the best lights in southern Illinois, sod pretty good and ample parking space. There is a new modern scoreboard. Probable Starters

Expected to start for McLeansboro are: Rog Sloan 160 and Doyle Lee 162, ends; Bob McMahon 187 and Earl Elliston 213, tackles; Carlos Neal 161 and Bob Leuke 202, guards; Charles Peters 170, center; Leon Hall 143, quarterback; Joe Gateley 130 and Charles Hatcher 132, halfbacks and Steve Bell 170, fullback.

Eldorado probably will be without the services of its two regular halfbacks—Acie Gwaltney and Bob Potts. Gwaltney is fighting a severe cold and Potts came out of the Anna game with a rib injury.

Stroke, a starter at end, will fill in for Potts. Foster will take Gwaltney's place and Kinsery will start in Stroke's end position. Eldorado coach Adams said today.

It had been reported that Lovellette would miss the McLeansboro game as he had planned to have a cyst removed from his right ear earlier this week. However, the operation has been postponed until after football season is over as the physician stated he was afraid of possible infection if the operation was performed and Lovellette played football within the next few weeks.

Eldorado will start Laffoon at center, Mosby and Mitchell at guards, Putnam and McClary at tackles, Chandler and Kinsery at ends, Clark, Lovellette, Stroke and Foster in the backfield, Adams stated today.

All South Seven Teams in Action Friday; Bull Dogs at Marion

The South Seven football conference gets into full swing this week with six of the seven teams engaging in league play and the seventh, West Frankfort, taking on the Indians at Johnston City in a Thursday night affair.

Friday night will find Harrisburg at Marion, Benton at Centralia and Herrin at Mt. Vernon.

Local eyes of course will be on the Harrisburg-Marion contest, with a tough game in prospect as the Wildcats have a bigger line and faster backs than the Bull Dogs.

In fact it is the kind of game coming up that if the Bull Dogs are let down when they go out onto the field, they could come home with their first loss of the season.

See Tight Race
Ben Chamness, Bull Pups' coach, scouted the Marion-Carterville game, won by Marion 40-0, and he returned with reports of fast Marion backs who really could scout off the yardage. When they got loose they were really off for a big gain or a touchdown.

The South Seven looks tighter this year than in many seasons with lots of prognosticators believing that there will be no undefeated team at the end of the season. This is probably right with five teams definitely in contention—Mt. Vernon, Herrin, Centralia, Benton and Harrisburg. That leaves Marion and West Frankfort, who might surprise too. In fact, on a given night they might pump one of the upper five right out of the picture.

The two other conference games should be real close, with Herrin and Mt. Vernon a tossup and Benton having only a slight edge over Centralia. Harrisburg, Benton and Mt. Vernon have been getting most of the buildup in the outside press to win the title.

Eagles at McLeansboro
All the activity is now confined to the South Seven. Neighbor Eldorado will go to McLeansboro for the TV game of the week, Mattoon will be at Carbondale, Murphysboro at Pinckneyville, Chester at Anna-Jonesboro, Du Quoin at Sparta, Christopher at Sesser, Cairo at Cape Central, Shawnee at Metropolis, Carverville at Ziegler and Carmi at Lawrenceville.

The Bull Pups, coached by Chamness and Jim Beers, will take to the Taylor Field gridiron Monday.

2 South Seven Contests Top Play in State

By United Press
Four South Seven Conference powers tangle in two of the top games Friday night as the Illinois pre football season turns into its second week.

Harrisburg, which edged always-strong Murphysboro 13-6 in its opener last week, is at Marion, and Herrin, which dumped Ziegler 42-0, travels to Mount Vernon.

Marion walloped Carverville 40-0, and Mount Vernon beat Chester 34-0 in their first tests.

In the Big Eight Conference, pre-season title favorites Elgin and Aurora East will be tested by Thornton Harvey and Bloom Township, respectively, of the South Suburban League.

Other games involving Big Eight teams pit Freeport against Leyden, Rockford East against Belvidere, Rockford West at Dixon, Aurora West at Naperville, and Joliet against Joliet Catholic.

Big 12 Opens
Decatur opens the Big 12 campaign at Bloomington, while other conference members get one more tune-up. Bloomington beat Normal Community 26-0 in its opener, while Decatur lost 19-14 to Mooseheart.

Mattoon is at Carbondale, Danville entertains Kankakee, Lincoln at Clinton, Peoria Central takes on Peoria Limestone, Peoria Manual is at Springfield Lanphier, Champaign at Quincy Notre Dame, Urbana at Georgetown, and Pekin at home for East Peoria in other games involving Big 12 teams.

The other Big 12 member, Springfield, opens the drive for the city championship against Springfield Peitshans.

East St. Louis, which stretched the state's longest victory streak to 33 games by whipping Springfield last week 27-0, looks for No. 34 against Lincoln of East St. Louis.

Collinsville, which turned in a thumping 39-0 victory over Gillespie to back its rating as a team to beat in the Southwest, is at Belleville Cathedral, Edwardsville, another Southwest power and owner of a 20-13 victory over Granite City, invades Wood River.

In the Eastern Illinois Conference, Charleston, 33-7 victor over Oakland last week, plays Robinson at home.

Injury Jeopardizes Willie Mays' Chance To Set Club Record

NEW YORK (AP) — Willie Mays' chance to set a new club record for home runs in one season was jeopardized today when a bruised hip and stiff back made him a doubtful starter in the New York Giants' final three games of the National League season.

Mays, who leads the majors with 50 homers, and needs only one more to equal Johnny Mize's club record, smashed full tilt into the center field bleacher wall during Wednesday's doubleheader with the Pittsburgh Pirates. Mays was attempting to catch a 455-foot drive by Long to almost the same spot where Willie made his famous catch on Vic Wertz in the 1954 World Series.

Unique Program at First Methodist Youth Revival Services

A unique program is being presented each evening at the First Methodist church by young Bob Bradford, impersonator and ventriloquist. He was invited to come to help with the Methodist Youth revival which began Monday evening and will continue through tonight and Friday at 7:30 p. m.

A good attendance was present last evening to enjoy the prelude of entertainment with his dummy, "Jiggers Johnson," who sings religious songs along with his impertinent remarks. Bob, who was at one time a "big time" night-club entertainer, consecrated his life and talents to God's call and devotes all of his time to religious work. Besides the evening services he has been presenting programs at the several schools in

Female 'Peeping Tom' New One on Sheriff

PEORIA, Ill. (U.P.)—Peoria County Sheriff Fred W. Montgomery received a complaint that he said tops all complaints in 30 years of law enforcement work.

A woman called his office to complain about a "peeping Tom." But the "peeping Tom" turned out to be a woman, who fled when she realized she had been seen. "I've heard of everything now," Montgomery said.

Some Fail to File Claim for Social Security

A considerable number of widows, young children, and aged parents of working people who died between June 1940 and September 1950 have failed to claim the monthly benefits payable to them under a 1954 change in the social security law, announced E. Bishop Hill, manager of the Harrisburg social security office. Those who do not apply for their benefits before October 1, he pointed out, will not be able to receive benefits for all the months back to September 1954, the effective date of the new provision in the law.

Under this provision, it is now possible to pay monthly social security benefits to the qualified survivors of workers who died between June 1940 and September 1950 if the deceased wage earner had credit for as little as a year and a half of work under social security. The families of many of these workers applied for benefits at the time of the family breadwinner's death, Mr. Hill said, but were told that they could not receive payments because under the law, as it then stood, the worker had not earned enough social security credit to provide survivors benefits for his family.

"Announcements of the change in the law were made in all newspapers, in pamphlets, and on radio and television," Mr. Hill said, "and many persons in this area have applied for these benefits since September 1, 1954."

Where a claim for social security benefits is filed within 12 months of the time a beneficiary is first eligible, his payments can be made to him retroactively for the whole period, Mr. Hill pointed out. But if a claim is delayed for more than 12 months, benefits for some months will be lost. He therefore urged the survivors of workers who died between June 1940 and September 1950 to get in touch with their nearest social security office before October 1, 1955. Qualified claimants who apply before that date can be paid benefits back to September 1954.

"Monthly benefits under this provision may be paid to the aged widows of such workers who at the time of death had worked on jobs under social security for at least a year and a half—to surviving children under 18 years of age, and to their mothers. Where no widow or children survived the worker, payments can be made to his aged parents if he was providing their support."

B. & P. W. Club to Observe Business Women's Week

Business Women's Week is widely celebrated in every state and almost every city and community with each year a new theme and expanded program which both honors business women and stresses their citizenship responsibilities.

This year the theme is "Aim High" for the 28th year of the National Business Women's week. The National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs chose this slogan for National Business Women's Week with four points in mind. First, to call attention to opportunities for growth and advancement for all American women in their chosen professions and businesses. Second, to emphasize to the individual business woman the need of top-flight in personal standards of achievement in her field and to create incentive for better performance on the job in the task at hand. Third, to underscore the standing invitation to the young women of America who are just beginning their business careers to join one of the 3300 clubs. Fourth, to take another forward step in the Federation's 36 years of aiding business and professional women to advance themselves.

The Federation now has 175,000 members and clubs in 48 states, the District of Columbia, Alaska and Hawaii. There are more than 700 business and professions represented in the organization.

The Harrisburg Business & Professional Women's club will observe Business Women's Week Sept. 25 to Oct. 1. On Sunday the members will attend their own churches and on Tuesday evening, Sept. 27, be hostess to a banquet for the four clubs of District 13 to be held at the First Presbyterian church at 6:30 p. m. with Miss Bess Pemberton as guest speaker.

Raleigh, Ridgway Win Games In Grade School Tournament

Raleigh and Ridgway will meet in the second game of the semifinal round of the grade school softball tournament being played at the town park diamond.

This afternoon's semifinal play will start at 2 p. m. with Harrisburg meeting Carrier Mills. They were the winners in play Tuesday afternoon. Immediately following the Harrisburg-Carrier Mills game the Raleigh and Ridgway will play. Today's winners meet Friday at 3 p. m. for the regional title and the right to travel to Du Quoin for state play next week.

The best game of the tourney to date was Raleigh - Shawneetown game with Raleigh the winner 5-4. Raleigh went into the final frame leading 5-2, then saw Shawneetown rally for two runs. A high foul fly closed out the game. Oglesby pitched for the winners and Hunsaker took the loss.

Ridgway and Omaha engaged in a slugfest with Ridgway the 20-11 victor. In taking the decision Ridgway pounded out 19 safe blows and Omaha had ten hits. Wentz was Ridgway's pitcher and Keasler was on the mound for Omaha.

Revival at First Apostolic Church

A revival is now in progress at the newly decorated First Apostolic church on South Granger where Willard Fritts is pastor. Sign Contract For Joppa Plant JOPPA, Ill. (U.P.)—A new labor contract has been signed covering operating engineers who threatened to strike at the steam power plant here.

Plant manager Turner White said the contract covers about 212 members of the International Union of Operating Engineers.

Negotiations have been going on since the contract expired at the end of June. In August the engineers voted to strike Sept. 3 if a new contract was not obtained.

However, the strike was postponed and Federal Mediation Service representatives were called in to the contract talks which concluded with the signing of the contract Tuesday.

The Joppa plant supplies electric power to the atomic energy plant across the Ohio River at Paducah, Ky.

New Argentine Gov't to Return Seized Paper

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—United States officials today hailed a report that the new Argentine government would return the Buenos Aires newspaper La Prensa to its former private owners.

American enthusiasm for the move was expressed as the State Department set diplomatic machinery in motion for recognition of the provisional government which overthrew former President Juan D. Peron.

U. S. recognition will be forthcoming if the new rulers have effective control over Argentina and promise to live up to Argentina's previous international obligations. There were no sure signs that the new regime would be pro-American, but officials did not discount this possibility.

La Prensa was one of the world's leading newspapers before it was seized by the Peron government in early 1951. It was taken over following a long record of opposition to the Peron regime.

Action to return the newspaper to the Gainza Paz family, which founded and operated La Prensa for three generations, would be a "very favorable development," officials said. La Prensa's seizure, it was pointed out, has long been one of the major U. S. complaints against the Peron regime. Alberto Gainza Paz, publisher of La Prensa, now is in New York.

Testimonial Dinner Tonight For Sen. Dirksen

CHICAGO (U.P.)—About 1,600 persons will sit down to a $100-a-plate testimonial dinner tonight for Illinois Republican Sen. Everett M. Dirksen.

The "Non-Partisan Business Men's Committee" which is sponsoring the affair said it will be the biggest testimonial dinner ever held in Chicago.

The late Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) drew some 4,000 here in 1952, but this was a fund-raising event of the Republican Citizens Finance Committee and was not regarded as a testimonial.

Dirksen's speech will be preceded by remarks from Rep. Leslie Arends; Chicago lawyer Austin L. Wyman; and Ralph J. Scheu, who heads the businessmen's committee.

Dirksen has not yet formally announced his intentions for 1956 but is expected to declare for re-election in Pekin Oct. 6.

Union Seeks Special Session For State Pay Hike

SPRINGFIELD (U.P.)—A union official today tried to promote circulation of petitions among state employees for a special session of the Legislature to pass a state pay raise bill.

C. S. Grotke, international representative for the AFL State, County and Municipal Employees, said the petitions would be submitted to Gov. William G. Stratton.

He said a special session would "prevent state employees from being required to work at slave pay under slave conditions until 1957 when the Legislature meets again."

The 1955 Legislature thought it had passed two bills for a state employees' pay increase, but through a technical flaw the key bill was not passed in a valid manner and never reached the governor's desk.

Godfrey Fails to Answer Complaint

CHICAGO (U.P.)—Television entertainer Arthur Godfrey has failed to answer a request for details of a Sept. 7 incident involving his private DC3 airplane, a Civil Aeronautics Administration investigator said today.

As a result, investigator Harry Troxell said, he is forwarding the case to the CAA's legal section at Kansas City for "whatever action it finds necessary."

Ozark Airlines has filed a complaint saying that Godfrey's plane flew within 100 feet of the right wing of one of its airliners and then crossed in front of it. The alleged incident occurred shortly after both planes took off from Chicago's Midway Airport.

State Treasurer Wright Sets Up Own Stand in Statehouse Corridor

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (Special) — State Treasurer Warren Wright, Park Ridge, the enigma of Illinois Republican politics, has set up his own stand over weekends in a statehouse corridor outside his first floor office. An office guard, wearing the usual sidearm required of treasury guards, is on duty at an aluminum table which contains a register for visitors as well as May and June copies of Wright's monthly report.

It's just down the corridor from the rotunda where Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter, East Moline, who plans to run for GOP renomination, has a marble counter with informational guides in attendance to escort tourists over the statehouse. Carpenter puts out booklets about his office, the state seal, a color photo of the Capitol and state and national flag and other information pamphlets.

Upstairs on the second floor the reception room of Gov. William G. Stratton's office is equipped with various bits of literary information as well as souvenir postcard photographs of Stratton for visitors to take home. On the same floor is the office of State Auditor Orville E. Hodge, Granite City, a candidate for Republican renomination, where literature is on a modest scale.

The weekend stand set up by Wright with a treasury guard in attendance appeared without fanfare. Early one recent Saturday morning the stand about five feet wide was brought out and placed in the corridor. As people pass they are welcomed to take a copy of the monthly treasury report and sign a register. On weekdays the office is open for visitors to enter.

Wright was elected state treasurer for the second time in 1954, winning over Democrat David Mallet, East St. Louis, by 8,941 votes. In 1952 he was a candidate for the Republican nomination for secretary of state against Carpenter, losing by only 6,445 votes. He has variously been mentioned as a candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor and for Secretary of State.

In his June report Wright calls attention to the fact that at the close of the biennium (June 30) there were "substantial balances in every one of the state's accounts." He said the state closed the biennium with a balance in excess of $246 million in funds supporting appropriations and that the total of all funds on June 30 was $707 million "which means your government is in the black."

Illinois has 525 state banks with deposits totaling $4,189,946,746 on June 30 last as compared with $19 having deposits totaling $4,075,765,891 as of a year ago. State Auditor Orville Hodge, Granite City reports. Twenty-eight state banks in Chicago, he said, have deposits totaling $2,313,643,124 with 497 downstate banks accounted for the balance.

Egg specialists — six of them — have been sent in to the field to begin egg law enforcement for the State Agriculture Department. Their job, State Agriculture Director Stillman J. Stanard, Carbonale, says, is to see that eggs are candled and the bad eggs removed and that they are labeled according to uniform standards either by "grade and size" or as "ungraded."

Republican State Chairman Morton H. Hollingsworth, Joliet, who is also state finance director, sees a rosy 1956 ahead for the GOP in Illinois. Hollingsworth, back from Washington where he attended a four-day campaign school, says the GOP will make a clean sweep of Illinois behind President Eisenhower next year. He said followers of the late Senator Taft are solidly behind Ike.

A bid for the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor has been launched by John R. Asher, Paris, state committeeman from the 21st congressional district. Asher classifies himself as a protégé of the late Gov. Henry Horner, and of Bruce Campbell, East St. Louis, former Democrat chairman and former chairman of the Illinois Commerce Commission.

A former employee of the state finance department (7½ years) under Horner, Asher lists that experience, plus the editing of House and Senate journals and bills for printing purposes as qualifying him for lieutenant governor who by virtue of that office is the president of the state Senate.

Asher claims his activities in politics has made his name known in 30 counties from Springfield (Sangamon) south because of his activities in behalf of Horner, former Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson and because of his "many battles for reelection to the state committee." He is a son-in-law of the late Frank T. O'Hair, Paris, the only Democrat to defeat "Uncle Joe" Cannon for Congress.

Asher's announcement brings to a total of three the number of announced candidates for major state office nominations. State Auditor Orville E. Hodge, Granite City, was first of the officers with an announcement. He told a Republican day audience at the state fair he was running for re-election. Previously Elmer J. Hoffman, Wheaton, had announced for state treasurer.

It appears now Stratton, perhaps Lieutenant Gov. John W. Chapman, Springfield, and Secre-

CAMPUS QUEEN—Kathryn Rogers, new national College Queen, is surrounded by runners-up in the contest at Asbury Park, N. J. The 19-year-old beauty from Germantown, Tenn., attends the University of Mississippi. She won on the basis of beauty—50 per cent—and intelligence, scholastic standing, and participation in college extracurricular activities. Girls standing are, from left, Ginger Stein of Philadelphia, last year's queen; Petey Dunn of Florida, second-place winner, and Sue Curtis of Alabama, who placed third.

Rock Island, are moving around the state promoting him for the spot. One is Rep. Paul Simon, Troy, youngest member of the general assembly and publisher of a weekly newspaper. Meanwhile Rep. Paul Powell, Vienna, is still mulling the suggestion he try for the nomination.

Illinois Young Republicans will hold their state convention in Springfield on Oct. 29-30. Secretary of State Carpenter is billed as the main speaker.

CONCERT COUNT—General chairman, Mrs. Joseph M. Hart, seated left, Community Concert representative, Mrs. Mabel Roeth, standing, and Mrs. D. H. Miller, secretary, look over the cards to get a preliminary check on the success of the 1955 Community Concert drive now under way in Harrisburg. They reported that there was a larger percentage of renewals than last year and that the memberships were steadily coming in, even from out of town. (Register Staff Photo)

GROUP THERAPY FOR MENTAL PROBLEMS: In classroom-like atmosphere of a Veterans Administration hospital, mental patients work together to understand about nature of their problem.

Wonder Drugs Bring Hope to VA Mental Patients

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — On

certain days, depending on the wind direction, the planes taking off and landing on Bolling Air Force Base roar over St. Elizabeth's mental hospital where Veterans Administration cases are handled.

Not long ago on such days, one of the VA patients would crouch under his bed, shaking in terror and screaming wildly that the dive bombers were after him.

Then one morning a few months ago the psychiatrist on the ward found the young man standing quietly at the window, watching the planes fly low overhead.

"Aren't the dive bombers after you this morning?" the doctor asked him kindly.

"Oh, yes, they're after me all right," the patient replied, "but I'm not scared of them anymore."

Dr. Jesse F. Casey, chief psychiatrist for VA, cites this case as typical of what has happened to thousands of VA mental patients as a result of the use of the two new wonder drugs, reserpine and chlorpromazine. Reserpine comes from an old Indian root medicine, and chlorpromazine is a synthetic drug sold under the trade name of Thorazine. They do about the same thing, relaxing disturbed patients without putting them to sleep.

Many and extravagant claims have been made for the success of these two drugs in the treatment of mental patients during the past couple of years. But Dr. Casey, who is directing the largest of all controlled tests of them in his VA work, says that they still have not passed the acid test.

That test, he explains, must furnish statistical proof that the use of the drugs is positively cutting down the number of mental cases in VA hospitals.

VA now has about 54,000 mental patients in its hospitals. This figure has been increasing steadily since World War II because about 20 per cent of the new patients admitted each year can't be cured and must remain under treatment. And despite the use of the drugs for more than a year this "residual rate" has not dropped.

During this time, VA has been spending close to $200,000 a month on the two drugs for its mental patients. "And the results are really very encouraging," Dr. Casey says.

"They have proved to be the best things that have come along in a long time for the treatment of mental cases," he admits. But he goes back to the case of the man in St. Elizabeth to illustrate his reservation on the drugs' success.

"We know that the drug quieted that man so that he no longer feared the dive bombers. But he still continued to suffer from his basic mental difficulty, which was believing the dive bombers were after him."

The man is now getting psychotherapy along with the drugs. In other words the doctors are trying to reason him back to reality, which they were not able to do before the drug quieted him. But even though he has shown improvement, there is still no positive evidence the drug is having a direct, remedial effect on his basic mental trouble.

As of now, Dr. Casey rates reserpine and Thorazine in about the same category as insulin shock, electric shock, lobotomy, and physical and hydrotherapy in the treatment of mental cases.

"They have all been great advances," he says, "but they are still treatments and not cures." He admits that further testing could reveal the drugs do have curative powers. This might possibly show up in another year, he says. If that happens he is willing to admit they are in a special category, far above mere treatments.

Despite his conservative evaluation of the drugs as "mental cures," he says their widespread use has had the effect of practically eliminating the violent wards in VA hospitals. At the same time it has increased the demand for trained psychiatrists to give psychotherapy to patients—once in a disturbed state but now quieted enough to be subjected to this treatment.

Another reason why Dr. Casey is reluctant to say flatly that reserpine and Thorazine are solely responsible for sending more mental patients home is the fact that the older treatments and techniques have been improved and expanded.

"We give all of our patients several types of treatments, so you can't pin point any one as being the real cause of a cure," he explains.

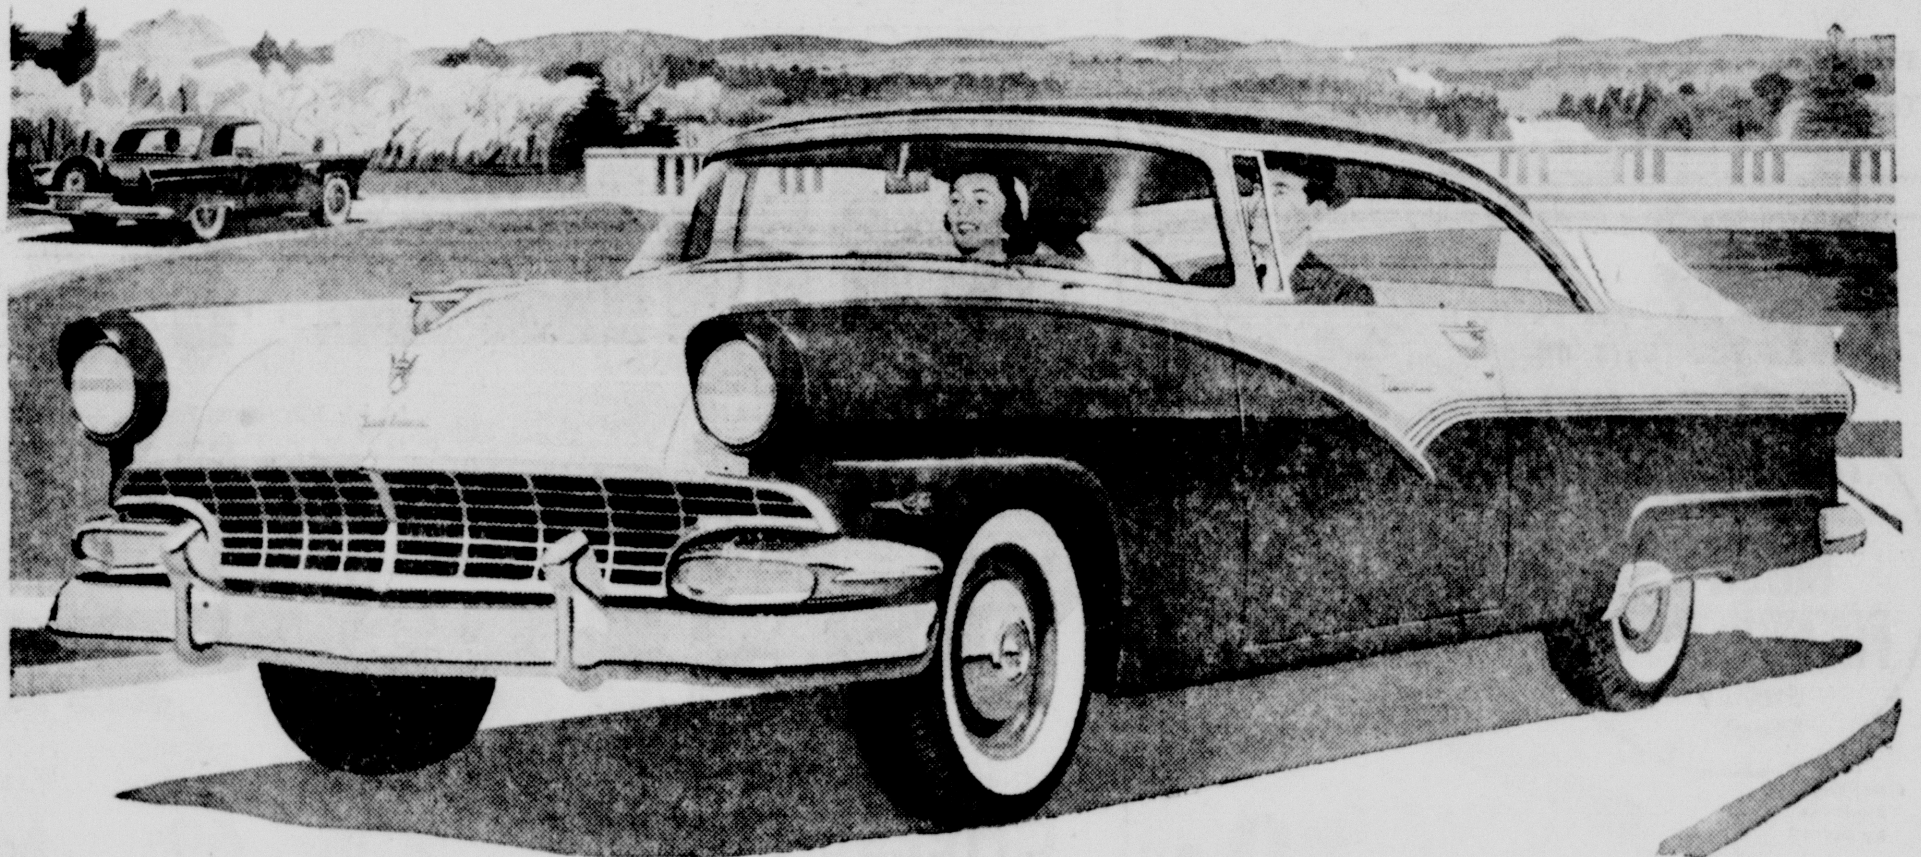

Another idea which Dr. Casey is trying with success is mental hygiene clinics, which give outpatient care for cases not severe enough to warrant confinement. Last year 2,200 veterans got such clinical treatment, with an estimated saving of $5,000,000.

In addition to helping mental patients, VA and other hospitals are finding the new drugs good for treating alcoholics and dope addicts.

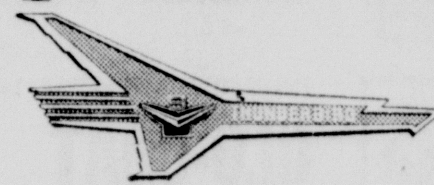

Indians value the porcupine as food, but the white man has made little use of this animal.

NAME CANDIDATES FOR HOMEcoming QUEEN

The Eldorado Township high school homecoming has been scheduled for Oct. 6 and 7. The big two-day affair gets underway Thursday with the presentation of the Senior class play, "Desperate Ambrose," and will climax with the football game Friday night with the Eagles opposing the Benton Rangers. Candidates for homecoming queen were selected by ETHS students Tuesday as follows: Joan Burroughs, Sue Hill, Claudette Justice, Linda Sontra, Janice Sutton and Faye Williams.

The ETHS faculty was completed this week with the employing of Mrs. Laura Groves as instructor in the English department. Mrs. Groves is well qualified for the position, having taught previously at Eldorado and also in the high schools of Galatia and Harrisburg.

Michigan's Department of Health was the first state health agency to distribute blood plasma to hospitals on a statewide basis.

SQUEEZE PLAY—Sixteen-year-old John Eldred didn't mean to "park" his car in this awkward position in Indianapolis, Ind. He accidentally bypassed a "road closed" sign, and the car ended up wedged sideways in the ditch of a new storm sewer. Eldred squeezed unhurt from the car.

Orientation Course For Volunteer Workers At Vet Hospital Oct. 19

An Orientation and Indoctrination course for volunteer workers will be held in the auditorium of the Marion, V. A. hospital on Wednesday, Oct. 19, starting at 9 a. m. F. H. Peters, Chief, Special Service, states that additional volunteer workers are urgently needed in several departments. Although this Orientation and Indoctrination course is primarily intended for the new workers, current workers are urged to attend the school, especially if they have not attended within the past 2 or 3 years.

The VA Voluntary Service is a program, under which community volunteers contribute their services in VA Hospitals, for the well being of ill and disabled veterans. Volunteers in no way replace staff members. Instead, they provide ingredients beyond the scope of the busy professional staff; a touch of home ... a feeling of belonging ... a bond with the world outside.

Volunteers are active in all of VA's hospitals. They can be found everywhere in the hospital, supplementing the work of the VA Staff. The following are the activities that utilize their services: Chaplain service, nursing service, physical therapy, recreation service, hobby activities, radio, personal services, information service, library service, corrective therapy, medical service, entertainment, motion pictures, television, shopping service, postresses.

XXVIII
The four of them, walking the middle of the street. Not hurrying, not slowing. The O. K. Corral not 50 steps away.

Only Doc Holliday with the shotgun this time. All the Earps, and Wyatt in the lead of them, wearing only their belt guns, holding their hands slack and free and proud away from them. And Wyatt wanting it that way. The time for the Buntline Special and the old double-barrel was long past. This time nobody was going to jail. This time it would be hand against hand, nerve against nerve. No special weapons, no walk-ups behind, no cold scatter-gun drops.

There would be no room for any man to cry a foul or claim unfairness. This time they were going to get it where they had been begging for it. In the belly.

Ahead, scarcely 40 feet now, were the open-swinging gates of the corral yard.

In the yard itself, their sweating backs to the wall of the building which formed its north side, waited the five outlaws: young Billy Clanton, just turned 17, white in the face and silent now, but hard in mind and dangerous in gunhand as any of them; Ike, shivering uncontrollably, the fear coming up in his drying mouth, thick and dusty as boll-weevil cotton; Tom McLowry, not afraid and not unafraid, not thinking, even, but watching Frank and drawing his strength from him; Frank, the oldest and most ready of them all, 31 the coming spring, a dark-skinned, high-trained, deadly man; last, the 21-year-old William Claiborne. He was an unbalanced, twisted boy, who had killed three men in the past four months. He had but one ambition of being called and known as Billy the Kid, succeeding to the title left vacant by the gunfire following Pat Garrett's soft call of the real Billy.

There they were, two men, two boys, and a coward, all calling themselves cowboys.

Ike and Billy Clanton and Frank McLowry, each had a single gun in a belt holster. Tom McLowry's 45 was stuck handle-high in the waistband of his Levis. Billy Claiborne had two guns worn low in double holsters.

In the last seconds Johnny Behan made his lone play. Wyatt heard the bang of his office door as they came abreast of it. He never stopped walking.

Behan was up to them then, waving them down.

"It's all right, boys!" he shouted. "I've disarmed them. You can let them be."

"Did you arrest them?" asked Wyatt.

"No need for that. I ..."

"Get out of the way, then!" said Wyatt flatly, and brushed him back with one sweep of his arm. It was 10 feet to the gate then, and Behan was running for cover.

The Earps bore down upon the five men waiting along the building wall. Across from Virg were Billy Claiborne and Ike Clanton. Fronting Wyatt were Billy Clanton and Frank McLowry. Morg had Tom McLowry all to himself.

Wyatt stopped the dead march in the last half breath. They measured it later. It was only nine feet from his bootprints to the building wall.

"You men are under arrest," said Tombstone's sometime town marshal. "Throw up your hands." One set of hands went skywards. Ike's. Four sets went the other way.

Frank and Billy Clanton took Wyatt. Billy was a little wild. His first shot clipped Wyatt's shirt. Frank's first shot didn't even touch him. With good professional reason, Wyatt's eyes had never left Frank. He was the No. 1 gun, and had to go first. Frank's gun barely cleared its sheath when Wyatt's slug hit him three inches above the belt buckle. Wyatt's second shot nearly tore Billy Clanton's right arm off, spinning him clear around and knocking him off his feet. Both men were in the dirt, with the light only three seconds old.

Tom McLowry dove behind one of the saddled horses, firing at Morg. Morg, in a cold way nobody ever forgot, just stood there and let him shoot, holding his own gun easy and careless, waiting for that one clear shot.

Virg was just as dead-calm.

about it. He let Billy Claiborne have three pegs, then threw down on him. But he had already had all he wanted of it. He broke and ran. Virg held his fire. He saw the boy dive for the door of the north-wall building. He saw the door flash open to let him in. And he saw who flashed it open. It was Johnny Behan.

Wyatt leaped toward the horse behind which Tom McLowry was firing at Morg. He drove two bullets into the animal. It reared, screaming, and Tom slid out and away from it. Wyatt threw down on him but in the same instant Ike Clanton ran crazily up and grabbed his gun-hand, slobbering. "Don't kill me! I ain't shooting!"

Morg had run over to help Wyatt with the hysterical Ike. Tom dropped him with a bullet through the base of his neck. When he saw Morg hit, Wyatt went crazy.

He kicked Ike away from him, roaring like a haired-up silver-tip. "This fight's commenced. Get to fighting or get out!" Even in the full roar of a boiling man, he couldn't shoot a man that wouldn't shoot back. The little second he took to spare Ike's miserable life nearly cost him his own. Tom was letting off with deliberate aim from not eight feet off.
